

The Simple Life

By CHARLES WAGNER

Translated From the French by Mary Louise Hendee

The must have lived in schools, in workshops, in the army, in government offices, he must have closely followed the relations between masters and servants, have observed a little everywhere where the supremacy of man exercises itself over man, to form any idea of the injury done by those who use power arrogantly. Of every free soul they make a slave soul, which is to say the soul of a rebel. And it appears that this result, with its social disaster, is most certain when he who commands is least removed from the station of him who obeys. The most implacable tyrant is the tyrant himself under authority. Foremen and overseers put more violence into their dealings than superintendents and employers. The corporal is generally harsher than the colonel. In certain families where man has not much more education than her maid the relations between them are those of the convict and his warder. And we everywhere to him who falls into the hands of a subaltern drunk with his authority?

We forget that the first duty of him who exercises power is humility. Haughtiness is not authority. It is not we who are the law; the law is over our heads. We only interpret it, but to make it valid in the eyes of others we must first be subject to it ourselves. To command and to obey in the society of men are, after all, but two forms of the same virtue—voluntary servitude. If you are not obeyed, it is generally because you have not yourself obeyed first.

The secret of moral ascendancy rests with those who rule with simplicity. They soften by the spirit the harshness of the fact. Their authority is not in shoulder straps, titles or disciplinary measures. They make use of neither force nor threats, yet they achieve everything. Why? Because we feel that they are themselves ready for everything. That which confers upon a man the right to demand of another the sacrifice of his time, his money, his passions, even his life, is not only that he is resolved upon all these sacrifices himself, but that he has made them in advance. In the command of a man animated by this spirit of renunciation there is a mysterious force which communicates itself to him who is to obey and helps him do his duty.

In all the provinces of human activity there are chiefs who inspire, strengthen, magnetize their soldiers; under their direction the troops do prodigies. With them one feels himself capable of any effort, ready to go through fire, as the saying has it, and if he goes it is with enthusiasm. But the pride of the exalted is not the only pride; there is also the pride of the humble—the arrogance of underlings, led pendant to that of the great. The root of these two prides is the same. It is not alone that lofty and imperious being, the man who says, "I am the law," that provokes insurrection by his very attitude; it is also that pigheaded subaltern who will not admit that there is anything beyond his knowledge.

There are really many people who find all superiority irritating. For them every piece of advice is an offense, every criticism an imposition, every order an outrage on their liberty. They would not know how to submit to rule. To respect anything or anybody would seem to them a mental aberration. They say to people after their fashion, "Beyond us there is nothing."

To the family of the proud belong also those difficult and supersensitive people who in humble life find that their superiors never do their fitting honor, whom the best and most kindly do not succeed in satisfying and who go about their duties with the air of a martyr. At bottom these disaffected minds have too much misplaced self respect. They do not know how to fill their place simply, but complicate their life and that of others by unreasonable demands and morbid suspicions.

When one takes the trouble to study men at short range he is surprised to find that pride has so many lurking places among those who are by common consent called the humble. So powerful is this vice that it arrives at forming round those who live in the most modest circumstances a wall which isolates them from their neighbors. There they are, entrenched, barbed with their ambitions and their contempt, as inaccessible as the powerful of earth behind their aristocratic prejudices. Obscure or illustrious, pride wraps itself in its dark royalty of enmity to the human race. It is the same in misery and in high places—solitary and impotent, on guard against everybody, embroiling everything. And the last word about it is always this: If there is so much hostility and hatred between different classes of men it is due less to exterior conditions than to an interior fatality. Condiing interests and differences of situation dig ditches between us, it is true, but pride transforms the ditches into gulfs, and in reality it is pride alone which cries from brink to brink, "There is nothing in common between you and us!"

We have not finished with pride, but it is impossible to picture it under all its forms. I feel most resentful against it when it meddles with knowledge and appropriates that. We owe our knowledge to our fellows, as we owe our riches and power. It is a social force which ought to be of service to everybody, and it can only be so when those who know remain sympathetically near to those who know not. When knowledge is turned into a tool for ambition it destroys itself. And what shall we say of the pride of good men? For it exists and makes even virtue hateful. The just who repent them of the evil others do remain in brotherhood and social rectitude. But the just who despise others for their faults and misdeeds cut themselves off from humanity, and their goodness, descended to the rank of an ornament for their vanity, becomes like those riches which kindness does not inform, like authority untempered by the spirit of obedience. Like proud wealth and arrogant power, supercilious virtue also is detestable. It fosters in man traits and an attitude provocative of I know not what. The sight of it repels instead of attracting, and those whom it deigns to distinguish with its benefits feel as though they had been slapped in the face.

To resume and conclude, it is an error to think that our advantages, whatever they are, should be put to the service of our vanity. Each of them constitutes for him who enjoys it an obligation and not a reason for vainglory. Material wealth, power, knowledge, gifts of the heart and mind, become so much cause for discord when they serve to nourish pride. They remain beneficent only so long as they are the source of modesty in those who possess them.

Let us be humble if we have great possessions, for that proves that we are great debtors. All that a man has he owes to some one, and we are sure of being able to pay our debts?

Let us be humble if we sit in high places and hold the fate of others in our hands, for no elevated man can fail to be sensible of unfitness for so grave a role.

Let us be humble if we have much knowledge, for it only serves to better show the vastness of the unknown, and to compare the little we have discovered for ourselves with the amplitude of that which we owe to the pains of others.

And, above all, let us be humble if we are virtuous, since no one should be more sensible of his defects than he whose conscience is illumined, and since he, more than any one else, should feel the need of charity toward evil doers, even of suffering in their stead.

"And what about the necessary distinctions in life? some one may ask." "As a result of your simplifications are you not going to destroy that sense of the difference between men which must be maintained if society exists at all?"

I have no mind to suppress distinctions and differences, but I think that what distinguishes a man is not found in his social rank, his occupation, his dress or his fortune, but solely in himself. More than any other, our own are has pricked the vain bubble of purely outward greatness. To be somebody at present it does not suffice to wear the mantle of an emperor or a royal crown. What honor is there in wielding power through gold lace, a coat of arms or a ribbon? Not that visible signs are to be despised—they have their meaning and use—but on condition that they cover something and not a vacuum. The moment they cease to stand for realities they become useless and dangerous. The only true distinction is superior worth. If you would have social rank duly respected you must begin by being worthy of the rank that is your own; otherwise you help to bring it into hatred and contempt. It is, unhappily, too true that respect is diminishing among us, and it certainly is not from a lack of lines drawn round those who wish to be respected. The root of the evil is in the mistaken idea that high station exempts him who holds it from observing the common obligations of life. As we rise we believe that we free ourselves from the law, forgetting that the spirit of obedience and humility should grow with our possessions and power. So it comes about that those who demand the most homage make the least effort to merit the homage they demand. This is why respect is diminishing.

The sole distinction necessary is the wish to become better. The man who strives to be better becomes more humble, more approachable, more friendly even with those who owe him allegiance, but as he gains by being better known he loses nothing in distinction, and he reaps the more respect in that he has sown the less pride.

REEL FROM THE STARS.

Professor Nichols, the astronomer, recently made a wonderfully delicate instrument to measure very faint heat waves. It is so sensitive to heat that it registers the warmth that emanates from a man's face 2,000 feet, or more than a third of a mile away. With this instrument Professor Nichols tried experiments in the Yerkes observatory. He selected the two stars Vega and Arcturus. These stars are so far away from the earth that the human mind cannot conceive the distance. Professor Nichols found that Arcturus sends the earth as much heat as a man could get from a candle burning six miles away from him. Vega was found to send only half as much heat as this.

PRECIOUS STONES

Investigation Shows That Mrs. Chadwick Dealt in Them to an Almost Fabulous Extent.

SMUGGLED INTO THIS COUNTRY.

Over $250,000 Worth of Diamonds and Other Gems Have Been Traced and Positively Located.

Only a Small Portion of This Was Put Up As Collateral For Loans—The Greater Portion Went As Gifts To Friends.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—Investigation into the charge that Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick smuggled large quantities of diamonds, gems and other precious stones into this country has developed the fact that the woman dealt in precious stones to an almost fabulous extent. In order to make a case on the charge of smuggling it was found necessary for the government authorities to trace all the deals for diamonds and jewelry made by Mrs. Chadwick, both in this country and Europe. The statement has been made by Collector of Customs Leach that considerably more than $250,000 worth of jewelry and precious stones handled by Mrs. Chadwick has been traced and positively located. It is added that this great amount of jewelry has been uncovered, with the investigation still incomplete. Of this amount the government is directly interested in about one-third.

To Collect Unpaid Duties. While the government is attempting simply to collect any unpaid duties on diamonds brought from Europe it is said that all information secured through the investigation will be placed at the disposal of Receiver Nathan Loewer and that he will be able to realize thousands of dollars for the creditors of the woman. The investigation has led to the discovery that only a very small portion of the precious stones and jewelry was put up as collateral for loans made by Mrs. Chadwick and that by far the greater portion went as gifts to friends and acquaintances.

The regular custom rate of duty on diamonds and jewelry brought to this country is 10 per cent. of the value of the goods. Figuring on this basis the government authorities expect to realize between $8,000 and $10,000. The rest of the proceeds from the sale of any jewelry on which duty has not been paid, will be turned over to Mr. Loewer to be distributed among the Chadwick creditors.

Nothing But the Finest Articles. It is simply the truth to say that Mrs. Chadwick handled pearls, rubies, sapphires, emeralds and garnets almost literally by the peck, said a government official. Testimony of experts show that the woman did not handle anything but the finest jewelry in the entire lot that has been traced.

According to government officials by far the greater portion of the jewelry is in the hands of innocent persons scattered all over the country. The work of informing these people that their claim on the jewelry is to be protested is going on. The anticipation is that practically all the people who have the jewelry will agree to a settlement without taking the matter into court. At the same time the government authorities as well as Receiver Loewer are taking steps to enforce their demands in the matter if so compelled.

ALL SHOTS MISSED

Young Man Fired Three Times at Gen. Treppoff, Ex-Chief of Police of Moscow.

FOURTH ATTEMPT ON HIS LIFE.

No Serious Fighting For Some Days Near Mukden, Though Night Skirmishes on Both Sides Continue.

Appearance of Gen. Mischchenko's Cavalry Southwest of Liao Yang Indicates the Preliminary To An Operation of Magnitude.

Moscow, Jan. 16.—At the Nicholas station, while Gen. Treppoff was bidding farewell to Grand Duke Sergius on his departure for St. Petersburg, a young man wearing a students cap fired three shots from a revolver at the general. All the shots missed Gen. Treppoff.

Gen. Treppoff, who recently was relieved of the office of chief of police of Moscow and ordered to the front to take up his duties as head of the Red Cross society in Manchuria, incurred the special enmity of the students of Moscow by the severity with which he put down their demonstrations. Within one year, in 1902, there were three attempts upon his life. The first of these, on March 31, was by a woman named Allart, a governess, who placed the muzzle of a pistol against Gen. Treppoff's breast and pulled the trigger, the weapon, however, failed to discharge. Four days later a man armed with a dagger tried to force his way to the presence of Gen. Treppoff with the avowed purpose of killing him. Within two days after this incident, while Treppoff was riding in his carriage, a young man, supposed to be a rusticated student, sprang upon the step of the vehicle and tried to stab him, but only succeeded in slightly wounding a policeman. After the anti-government demonstrations in Moscow last month it was said that the socialistic revolutionary party had passed sentence of death upon both Gen. Treppoff, chief of police, and Grand Duke Sergius, governor general of Moscow.

A Raiding Expedition.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—The war office does not admit that the appearance of Gen. Mischchenko's cavalry southwest of Liao Yang is more than a raiding expedition designed to strike the railroad at several points and interrupt the transportation of Gen. Nogi's guns from Port Arthur to Manchuria, but from certain indications it seems possible that it is preliminary to an operation of magnitude. Gen. Mischchenko has over 20,000 horsemen, and moving rapidly, might be able to seriously damage communications in the rear of Liao Yang. The tone of dispatches from some Russian correspondents vaguely hints at very important developments and the military writer of the Novoe Vremya expresses the opinion that the long calm since the battle of Shakhe is about to be broken. It is also noteworthy that there have been no official dispatches from Gen. Kuropatkin for two days.

Japanese Defeated.

Huanchan, Jan. 13, via Mukden, Jan. 16.—There has been no serious fighting for several days, though night skirmishes on both sides continue. The most important action recently was that in which Capt. Kosinoff and Triotzki, with 75 Cossacks, drove the Japanese out of the villages of Mitzi and Tkhanyay and captured a large amount of forage at both places.

Gen. Linevitch has been inspecting the whole front and finds that the men and supplies are in excellent condition. The Japanese on their side are pushing sapping operations toward the Russian lines at several points, but have not made serious progress.

You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration.

Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality.

Dr. Miles' Nervine brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion.

It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs.

Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"During the past winter I had two attacks of LaGrippe, which left me very weak and in bad condition. I was so nervous I could not sleep. My wife, after trying different remedies, went for a doctor. The doctor was out, and a neighbor recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and she brought home a bottle. I had not slept for some time, and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few doses of Nervine the pains went, and I slept. I am now taking the second bottle, and am very much improved."

SELANIUM.

A New Chemical Substance More Wonderful Than Radium.

Scientists are now closely examining and experimenting with a new and wonderful chemical substance called selenium, which possesses properties, it is said, even more marvelous than radium, says the London Pictorial Magazine.

A simple experiment was recently made by a French chemist which clearly proved this extraordinary peculiarity of selenium. A fragment of the substance was put into an electric battery from which an electric lamp received its light. There was also placed just above the selenium a disk pierced with holes which was turned round with a given rapidity. The marvelous result was that the electric lamp was extinguished and relighted alternately as the daylight fell upon the selenium through the holes in the disk.

The inventor hopes to utilize the influence of light on selenium for constructing a system of electric lamps which at nightfall will light of themselves and be extinguished at dawn automatically.

Coffee grains can be sorted by the aid of selenium when the necessary apparatus is requisitioned. It is done in this way. The grains pass through the machine one by one before a piece of selenium the electric resistance of which varies according to the light, and as this depends upon the color of the grain—good and bad coffee grain materially differ in color—a change in the intensity of the current takes place at every moment as the grains are light and dark. Thus influenced, the electric current displaces a kind of needle delicately poised inside the machine and readily influenced by the slightest electric current. This needle conducts the light grains into one receptacle and the dark ones into another with infallible accuracy of judgment.

Thousands of women who have suffered from backache, headache, and other consequences of womanly disease, have been made well women by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as it has done me so much good," writes Mrs. Henry Harrell, of Tabor, N. C. Box 109. "I was swollen so I could hardly walk when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' I also had uterine trouble and could neither eat nor sleep any as I took morphine. Tried four different doctors and they all failed to do me any good, so one of my friends recommended your 'Favorite Prescription' to me and I took only three bottles and am now well and hearty. Can do almost any kind of work."

A Poem for Today

A WOMAN'S LOVE

By John Hay

SENTINEL angel, sitting high in glory,
Heard this shrill wail ring out from Purgatory:
"Have mercy, mighty angel, hear my story!"

"I loved—and, blind with passionate love, I fell,
Love brought me down to death, and death to Hell;
For God is just, and death for sin is well."

"I do not rage against his high decree,
Nor for myself do ask that grace shall be;
But for my love on earth who mourns for me."

"Great Spirit! let me see my love again
And comfort him one hour, and I am fain
To pay a thousand years of fire and pain."

Then said the pitying angel, "Nay, repent
That wild vow! Look, the dial-needle's bent
Down to the last hour of thy punishment!"

But still she waited. "I pray thee, let me go!
I cannot rise to peace and leave him so,
O, let me soothe him in his bitter woe!"

The brazen gates ground sullenly ajar,
And upward, joyous, like a rising star,
She rose and vanished in the ether far.

But soon adown the dying sunset sailing,
And like a wounded bird her pinions trailing,
She fluttered back, with broken-hearted wailing.

She sobbed, "I found him by the summer sea
Reclined, his head upon a maiden's knee—
She curled his hair and kissed him. Woe is me!"

She wept, "Now let my punishment begin!
I have been fond and foolish. Let me in
To expiate my sorrow and my sin."

The angel answered, "Nay, sad soul, go higher!
To be deceived in your true heart's desire
Was bitterer than a thousand years of fire!"

U. V. L.

Public Installation of Officers Saturday night.

Saturday evening Encampment No. 144, U. V. L. had a public installation of officers for 1905. Dixon M. Hays was the installing officer. Officers installed as follows:

Colonel, G. (Pete) Taskey.
Lt. Col., W. R. Day.
Major, A. O. Moulder.
O. D., L. A. Reed.
Surgeon, Harmon Meyer.
Chap., Jas. Gasaway.
Adj., John Hunterman.
Serg. Maj., M. B. White.
Q. M. Serg., James Hontn.
O. G., Andrew Smith.
Color Bearer, Fred Plump.
Sentinel, Jacob Hopple.
The Q. M. elect Jas. Curry and bugler E. C. Wetzel absent on account of sickness and could not be installed.

After the installation the Methodist choir rendered some fine music. Too much thanks can not be given this choir for the generous way they always assist us.

The first address of the evening was by Ed Elsner, a son of a veteran and was highly appreciated.

The second address was by John M. Lewis and everybody knows that when he speaks it is always appropriate to the occasion and of the best quality.

Then Miss Day sang "Marching through Georgia" with graphophone accompaniment. Then that prince of Irishmen, John Hamilton, made a speech and he made every one laugh.

Miss Day then recited splendidly and proved that she was a master of song and elocution. She is about 12 years old.

After the exercises all went to the banquet hall, where a fine supper was spread by Mesdames R. W. Irwin, G. Taskey, T. A. Reed, A. Smith and their able assistants, all of whom we most heartily thank.

At 11:30 all went home fully satisfied that it is a good policy for old soldiers to belong to the U. V. L., which have no enemies to punish but many friends to whom we extend our great and earnest thanks.

AN OLD MEDICINE

In A New Form, Physicians Are Pleased.

W. F. Peter Drug Co. Say: Vinol is A New Form Of The Oldest And Best Tonic In The World.

"Science conferred a great boon on humanity when two eminent French chemists discovered how to extract from the cod's liver all the curative elements contained in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil or grease, and thus produce Vinol.
"It is no longer necessary to load the stomach with old-fashioned greasy cod liver oil or emulsions to obtain the curative properties of cod liver oil, for Vinol is like taking the kernel from the nut, the oil or the grease in which the curative elements were enveloped has been discarded, and we offer the people of Seymour the concentrated essence of the medicine found in cod liver oil, without a drop of oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work.
"For centuries doctors and druggists alike have looked upon cod liver oil as the best tonic, strength-creator and body-builder in the world, but have acknowledged that its one great drawback was the grease which it contained. With this grease all eliminated, we offer the people of Seymour in Vinol a perfect cod liver oil preparation as delicious to the taste as a fresh orange.
Mr. J. B. Kenner, Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "Vinol is the ideal preparation of cod liver oil; it purifies and enriches the blood, induces a good appetite, promotes digestion and invigorates every organ in the body."
"Therefore, in the strongest manner we endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength to the run down tired and debilitated, invigorate and build up old people, make rich, red blood, cure chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis. If it fails, we return your money." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case if it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

It will surprise you—Try it. It is the medicine above all others for catarrh and is worth its weight in gold. Ely's Cream Balm does all that is claimed for it.—B. W. Sperry, Hartford Conn.

My son was afflicted with catarrh. He used Ely's Cream Balm and the disagreeable catarrh all left him.—J. C. Olmstead, Arcola, Ill.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

Engineers Charley and Bruce Murphy and John Ormsby went to Cincinnati on No. 2 Sunday to come out on their runs.

A Surprise Party. A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver, by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are a most wonderful remedy, affording sure relief and cure for headache, dizziness and constipation. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

J. B. Thompson of Cortland was here Saturday afternoon on business.

A WINTER COLD.

It is always hard to get rid of and unless given instant and careful attention may result in Pneumonia. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a leader among medicines to prevent Chills and Colds. It keeps the system in a strong healthy condition and thus insures you against the most inclement weather. Then it also cures General Debility, Kidney Troubles, Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Constipation. We urge a trial.

TIME TO ORGANIZE

Proceedings of the Legislature Thus Far Have Been Mainly Preliminary.

THE FIRST FORTNIGHT

During This Period It Is Customary to Pass Out the One Bill Providing For Expenses.

Many Bills Will Be Reported Out of the Hands of Committees This Week.

Indianapolis, Jan. 16.—The legislature convened today for the third week of the session. Some criticism has been offered because more work has not been accomplished in the way of enacting laws, but it is not customary to pass any bill during the first fortnight except the one appropriating money for the expenditures of the session.

It always requires considerable time to organize. Many bills have been introduced and are now in the hands of the various committees. Many of them will be reported out this week, several being reported today. It requires time, however, for careful consideration of the weighty matters on hand, so it need surprise no one if neither house passes any of the important measures during the next month.

The final arrangements were made today for the election of two United States senators tomorrow. There will be twenty-three speeches on the Republican side and twelve from the Democrats, a veritable flow of oratory. This will consume the entire day tomorrow, so it is possible that Senator Beveridge and Senator-to-be Hemmeyer will not have an opportunity to express their thanks before Wednesday morning.

It is expected that a lively lobby will appear this week in behalf of and against some of the more important measures. The Anti-Saloon League has a very persuasive and active lobby here in behalf of its proposed amendments to the Nicholson law. There are many railroad attorneys on hand and representatives of other corporations that are interested in various projects. Perhaps the codification commission bills have attracted the largest number of lobbyists. They will become more active as the contents of these measures are better understood.

Senator Fremont Goodwin of Williamport is pushing his bill for the separation of the woman's prison and girls' industrial school and for a new institution for the latter. The bill for an epileptic village is not attracting expected attention, although the project is very interesting. It will come to the front before the session is far advanced. The ways and means committee of the house and the financial committee of the senate will get together as soon as the legislative committee makes its recommendations as to the needs of the various institutions.

DEATH OF GEN. WILLIAMS

Well-Known Indiana Editor Passes Away at Warsaw.

Warsaw, Ind., Jan. 16.—General Reuben Williams, editor of the Northern Indiana and Daily News of Warsaw, died at his home here Sunday as the result of exposure while returning from the inauguration of Governor Hanly at Indianapolis.

He was seventy-three years of age and had edited the Northern Indiana here for fifty years, being one of the oldest editors in the state. He was a colonel during the civil war and was one of the commission which tried the "Indiana conspirators" in Indianapolis. He was held captive in Libby prison for months and at the close of the war commanded the first regiment to pass the president's reviewing stand.

A Double Tragedy.

Veedsburg, Ind., Jan. 16.—John W. Brant, foreman of the Veedsburg News, was shot and killed here Sunday by Charles Eckburg, financial secretary of the local lodge of Odd Fellows. Immediately following the murder of Brant, Eckburg turned the revolver on himself and sent a bullet into his brain. The murder and suicide came as a result of an investigation into Eckburg's accounts as secretary of the lodge, in which Brant has been very active.

Charged With Embezzlement.

Brazil, Ind., Jan. 16.—Ex-City Treasurer D. H. Cutshall, whose shortage of $7,140.33 was shown at the special meeting of the city council, was arrested on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. Cutshall was taken before Justice Couch, where he waived preliminary hearing and his bond was fixed at $3,000, which was furnished and the defendant released.

Boy Charged With Forgery.

Greensburg, Ind., Jan. 16.—Glen Turner, an eleven-year-old boy, is under arrest here charged with forging checks. It is said that after taking a copy of a check written by his uncle, Joe Styers of this city, the boy filled out a number of checks for small amounts and succeeded in getting them cashed by Greensburg merchants.

WILL STIR THEM UP

Unterrified House Bryanite Proposed to Jar the Taggart Ring.

Indianapolis, Jan. 16.—Representative Jackson Boyd of Greencastle, who has been selected to place John W. Kern of this city in nomination before the house for United States senator, promises to stir up the animals some when he speaks. Boyd is a Democrat of the unterrified brigade. He does not believe in sacrificing principle for policy nor in ring rule, and he proposes to tell the members of the house and the public at large just where he stands. He is for no compromise with the enemy, and henceforth he thinks the fight should be under a standard bearing that motto. Boyd is a simon pure Bryanite, but he fears that some of the men who were responsible for the candidacy of Parker are now trying to toady Bryan in hopes of being selected by him for important roles in reorganizing the party three years hence. What Boyd thinks is that the party in Indiana needs a new organization and that the party at large needs a new national committee.

It seems more than likely now that some railroad track elevation legislation will be enacted during the present session, as the railroads have lately shown that they won't object to some fair agreement in the matter. The trouble has been up to this time that neither the city nor the roads would compromise, but with each side willing to arbitrate and give a little if necessary, it is not likely that there will be so much trouble in the legislature when the bill comes up. The city attorney here is preparing a bill which the present administration hopes will pass. Some time ago the roads submitted a plan for elevating the tracks at the Massachusetts avenue crossing, agreeing to bear a large portion of the expense. It is said that a bill along the lines of this agreement will be presented.

A novelty in interurban railway service was established today by the Indianapolis & Eastern and Dayton & Western Traction companies between Indianapolis and Dayton, when a through parlor and buffet car was put on. This car is similar to the combination Pullman buffet and parlor car. The design is beautiful and the cars are equipped for high speed. The distance of 108 miles is to be covered in four hours and fifteen minutes, an average of nearly fifty miles an hour, which equals the speed of the fast trains on the steam roads. The limited cars are to make but seven stops during the journey. The experiment will be watched with interest by the traveling public.

ON GOOD WAR FOOTING

United Miners Preparing for Possible Struggle.

Indianapolis, Jan. 16.—The annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America began here this morning at Tomlinson hall. This time the operators will not attend as the wage scale signed last year was for a period of two years. The convention, however, will be fraught with importance to the coal fields as the strike award made by President Roosevelt's commission expires April 1, and there may be another struggle for supremacy in the anthracite fields. President Mitchell and his organization want to be in good shape if there is to be a fight, so it will not be surprising if something is done at this convention to place the organization on a better war footing. The organization is in good shape financially and the membership is growing. President Mitchell, Vice President Lewis and Secretary Treasurer Wilson will be reelected without opposition. It is expected that there will be an attendance of between five and six hundred miners at this meeting.

Indiana Jail Figures.

Indianapolis, Jan. 16.—An excerpt from the report recently prepared by the state board of charities gives some interesting figures relative to the population in the county jails of Indiana. Oct. 31, 1904, there were present in the ninety-two county jails in the state and the Marion county workhouse a total of 949 prisoners—100 more than were present on the same day in 1903. Seventy-nine of these were women. The whole number admitted during the twelve months was 33,810—3,550 more than were received during the preceding year.

Costly Blaze at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 16.—Fire caused a loss of $28,000 in the Syrus Jones block. The bulk of the loss was sustained by the Fudge clothing firm.

The Deadly Gasoline.

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 16.—Jesse Summers lighted the kitchen fire with gasoline and both he and Mrs. Allie Clark were badly burned.

Forced to Starve.

B. F. Leek, of Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 years I suffered agonies, with a sore on my upper lip, so painful, sometimes, that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At W. F. Peter Drug Co. Only 25c.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root, pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Proof Of The Pudding Is In The Eating

And the proof of coal is in the burning. Persons who have used our Chestnut, Jackson Hill Domestic, and Pittsburg and "Lincoln" Youghhebeny lump coal will testify as to their good qualities.

In fact, these four grades of coal HAVE NO EQUALS. For heating, cooking and baking purposes THEY HAVE NO EQUALS.

Test any one of them and you'll find it leaves but few ashes, makes no clinkers, and is a steady, free burner.

We've Said It Before And We Say It Again.

The present supply of coal in Seymour is NOT SUFFICIENT TO LAST ALL WINTER. Continued congestion of freight traffic may prevent further shipment from the mines reaching here for some time.

It's best to "get on the safe side" by giving us your orders for coal now. We'll fill all orders promptly while the supply lasts. Those orders that we cannot fill now WILL BE GIVEN THE PREFERENCE AS SOON AS OUR STOCK IS REPLENISHED.

Besides the different kinds of coal named above, which are the best, we have the Linton and Black Creek lump, and others; also coke.

JOHN N. McDONALD.

Killed by Pennsylvania Train Saturday Afternoon.

John N. McDonald, who was killed at 3:35 Saturday afternoon by the northbound passenger train near the south end of the freight depot in this city, was twenty-two years old and lived on the Dr. Green farm near Chestnut Ridge. He leaves a wife and one small child. The funeral was Monday afternoon from the home of his father-in-law, Ed Foster, near Uniontown. Burial at the Beadle graveyard.

Saturday evening after the accident the body was put in charge of Undertaker Will Hustedt to prepare for burial.

Eye witnesses to the accident say that McDonald was walking north at the side of the main track and as the train came up behind him he stepped on to the main track right in front of the engine. It is believed that when he stepped on this track he either thought he was moving over on the side track out of the way of the train, or else he did not hear the train coming. Those who know him say he was very hard of hearing and for that reason many are of the opinion that he did not hear the train until it was too late to get out of the way. He was thrown quite a distance from the track the force of the engine crushing his body and bruising his head so severely that he lived only a short time, never regaining consciousness.

Dr. H. W. Washburn, the coroner, and Louis Richards, assistant claim agent of the railroad, were here Monday taking the testimony of those who had personal knowledge of the accident.

John N. McDonald was a son of Marshal McDonald, who died at Crothersville a few years ago. A brother, Horace McDonald, was accidentally killed ten or twelve years ago by a fall from a load of hay.

Chapter One.

In the days of the administration of George the First, surnamed Graes Lee, who ruled over See-Moore, there arose a chief of the Third tribe, who journeyed from the east, and almost before the dust of travel had been shaken from his feet, he proceeded to lift up his voice and to rule over all the tribes that owned allegiance to the administration of George the First. Yea, said he, my name is Ner-Buh, I am that I am. I am the great I am. The whole people shall bow down and shall obey me. Yea when the snow falleth they shall clear a path for me before the twelfth hour or abide the displeasure of me, the chief of Third tribe. Now George the First, the chief ruler of the city, was displeased with the edict of Ner-Buh and made known his displeasure to all his counsellors. Yet the edict went forth. The snows came and covered the pathways all over the great city. The twelfth hour passed and the snow did abide. Yea more snow did fall and the chief of the Third tribe, yea the great Ner-Buh, covereth his face and seeth not.

It is a graphic pen picture of Russian life today, made from personal observation, revealing the splendor of the palace and the squalor of the hovel.

"The Sowers" is above everything else a powerful story of love, hate and intrigue, full of human nature.

THE AMERICAN REVIEW OF REVIEWS

The more Magazines there are, the more Indispensable is The Review of Reviews

"Indispensable." "The one magazine I feel I must take." "The world under a field-glass." "An education in public affairs and current literature."—these are some of the phrases one hears from noted people who read the Review of Reviews. The more magazines there are, the more necessary is the Review of Reviews, because it brings together the best of the most important monthlies of the world. Such is the flood of periodical literature that nowadays people say that the only way to keep up with it is to read the Review of Reviews. Entirely over and above this reviewing section, it has more original matter and illustrations than most magazines, and the most timely and important articles printed in any monthly.

Probably the most useful section of all is Dr. Albert Shaw's illustrated "Progress of the World," where public events and issues are authoritatively and lucidly explained in every issue. Many a subscriber writes, "This department alone is worth more than the price of the magazine." The unique cartoon department, depicting current history in caricature, is another favorite.

The Review of Reviews covers five continents, and yet is American, first and foremost. Men in public life, the members of Congress, professional men, and the great captains of industry who must keep "up with the times," intelligent men and women all over America, have decided that it is "indispensable."

A BAD DISORDER

In the fall of 1895 I contracted that fearful disease, Blood Poison. It gained such headway that I was forced to resign my position and seek relief at Hot Springs. After spending all the means I had I went to Memphis. In less than three weeks I was in a hospital, and after nine weeks of suffering I was discharged as cured. In less than a month every bone in my body seemed to be affected and felt as if they would break at the least exertion. Again I was compelled to resign, and I returned to the hospital for a seven weeks stay. When I came out I was advised to try farming. When I first went on the farm I prevailed on the only firm who handled drugs to get me one dozen bottles of S. S. S. At that time both of my hands were broken out with blisters and I was covered with boils and sores. In the meantime my druggist had gotten two dozen bottles of S. S. S. for me and I began its use, and after taking the thirteenth bottle not a sore or boil was visible. R. B. POWELL, East 9th St., Little Rock, Ark.

COOKING BY ELECTRICITY.

Pressing the Button Gives Heat In the Modern Kitchen.

Long ago it was ascertained that when an electric current flowed through a wire some of it disappeared in transit, and it was also found that if the current was large and the wire carrying it was small the greater portion of the electric energy was transformed into heat.

It is evident, then, that if a little coil of wire is placed on the bottom of a saucepan and a current from a lamp socket is sent surging through it instantly it will glow to redness and quickly heat the contents. This is exceedingly simple, but the wire must be insulated, it must be of just the right length and be placed in the correct position in order to obtain the best results with the least cost.

A new substance for electric heating is called kryptol, being a recent notable German invention, consisting of graphite, carbundum and clay combined to form a loose mass. In this method the substance is arranged in the form of a cook stove instead of having the heat applied directly to the vessel used.

The first great advantage of calling in electricity as an aid in the proper preparation of foodstuffs is of course obvious to the veriest cooking school miss since the temperature of the kitchen is removed from that of the bake oven. When the gasoline arrangement was devised it was considered an important improvement, and it was indeed in so far as a decreased temperature was concerned, but its caprices, such as exploding just as dinner was ready to take up, made it unpopular.

In the modern electric kitchen safety reigns supreme, for electricity cannot explode, the teakettles, coffee-pots, saucepans, blenders, broilers, griddle-cookers, waffle irons, water urns, electric ovens, portable stoves and what not being insulated so that it is impossible to get a shock. Then there are no oil odors, there are no products of combustion, and finally the delight of the housewife and the joy of the cook are found in its absolutely uniform temperature. — Kansas City Star.

FANATIC PATRIOT.

Gessler Rosseau Confessed That He Attempted to Blow Up the Frederick Statue.

UNDER ARREST IN PHILADELPHIA.

He Also Admitted He Sent a Trunk Containing an Infernal Machine to a British Steamer.

As a Reason For These Attempted Outrages the Man Said: "There Are Too Many Foreign Affairs in This Country."

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.—Gessler Rosseau, who was arrested in this city with an infernal machine in his possession, admitted to the police that he is the man who attempted to destroy the statue of Frederick the Great in Washington last Tuesday and also that it was he who sent the trunk containing an infernal machine to the British tramp ship Umbria, in New York, in May, 1903. The prisoner, whose right name is not known, made these admissions in the office of Capt. Donaghy, of the Philadelphia detective bureau, after he had been identified by persons brought here from New York and Washington for that purpose. He gives no reasons for the attempted outrages except that "There are too many foreign affairs in this country."

After having Rosseau under fire all afternoon, the police classed him as an "American patriotic fanatic." The prisoner gave no information voluntarily to the police, he admitting only those things which the police had fastened on him.

Wanted in New York and Washington.

Both the Washington and New York authorities want the man, and it is probable that he will be turned over to the police of the latter city.

The apprehension of Rosseau was due to the disappearance of Owen Kelly, a wealthy Irish American, who is prominent in Irish American societies in this country. Kelly disappeared on October 25 and from time to time the newspapers, particularly of the east, have published articles on the mysterious disappearance. These, the police believe, undoubtedly attracted Rosseau's attention. The other day he called on Patrick Kelly, the brother of the missing man, and offered to take him to his brother in New York for $500. He said he and Owen Kelly belonged to secret societies that were organized for the purpose of blowing up British ships in American ports. The valise he carried, he said, contained explosives. Patrick Kelly notified the police and Rosseau was taken into custody. The valise contained an infernal machine of the clock arrangement variety, but no explosives. About the machine was wrapped a Washington newspaper. This gave the police the clue that he might know something of the explosion at the statue of Frederick the Great, and his picture was taken and sent to both the Washington and New York authorities. In the meantime he was also suspected of knowing something of the steamship Umbria incident.

Fully Identified.

Capt. Robert Boardman, of the Washington detective force, and Alfred Carter, colored, and George H. Hazel, cabman of Washington, who saw the man who attempted to blow up the statue, and Detective Sgt. Arthur Carey, of New York, and a Mrs. Curry, who keeps a boarding house in the latter city, arrived here for the purpose of identifying the prisoner.

Having satisfied themselves beyond doubt that the identification was complete, the police officials of the three cities set to work in obtaining a confession from the prisoner. He said he had manufactured the infernal machine himself and that it consisted of a candle, fuse and "dynamite mine." Where he made it he would not say. It was his intention, he said, to blow up the statue at night because he did not want to hurt anybody. Because of the ice in the Potomac river he failed to find any one who would row him from Seventh street wharf, Washington, to the arsenal, which is on one bank of the river, and he had to change his plans. The failure to destroy the statue, he said, must have been due to the melting tallow spoiling the fuse or interfering with the dynamite. Rosseau then gave the police the interesting information that he had intended making a second attempt to blow up the statue, this time with a clock machine.

Well Known in Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—"Gessler Rosseau," who was arrested in Philadelphia, is well known to the Chicago police. He lived under the name of Russell at 287 Washington boulevard, where he had his workshop. As far back as 1886 Russell came under the notice of the police. In November, 1902, he was under surveillance because of his apparent activity in manufacturing. He seemed well supplied with money and paid liberally for everything he bought.

SCOUTING BY TELEPHONE.

Up to Date Methods of the Scientific Jap Warrior.

"Scouting with the aid of the telephone has become one of the features of modern warfare and is now being made use of by the Japanese, says the Western Electrician. Two scouts proceeded from the lines toward the enemy; one, the observer, is a skilled army officer who makes the observations, which are transmitted back to headquarters through a telephone line paid out from a reel carried by an electrician of the signal corps.

A ground return is used, the ground being made by thrusting a bayonet or hatchet into the earth and attaching one end of the line to it. The electrician carries a battery on his back. He also makes the connections and does the talking. A special conductor is used which will stand the rough usage. In this manner a scout may be able to stay out a long time and give valuable information without being obliged to make a number of hazardous trips to the front.
